

Dr. Pedro Cartaxo Cintra

Pedro Cartaxo Cintra (CCRN, MSc, PhDc) is based in Barcelona, Spain, working as a critical care registered nurse at Hospital Clínic de Barcelona. He is also the academic coordinator for the Clinical Simulation and Patient Safety module of the Critical Care and Emergencies Master's Degree at Universitat de Barcelona. Since 2023, he has served as a member of the Executive Committee, holding the position of treasurer, at the Society for Simulation in Europe (SESAM). His current research focuses on understanding the impact of internal marketing strategies for healthcare professionals on patient safety, particularly across four key dimensions: clinical practice, research, management / leadership and education.

Contact: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/pedrocartaxocintra/>