

Mrs. Viktória Ďurajová

Viktória Ďurajová is a project manager for science, research and innovation at F. D. Roosevelt Hospital.

As a project manager, she covers a wide range of projects related to the introduction of innovations in the hospital (in the field of diagnostics, treatment, patient management, digitalisation, etc.).

She is interested in raising external funding for projects. She has many years of experience in financing under different funding schemes (European Structural Funds, Recovery and Resilience Fund, Horizon Europe, etc.).

She believes in the importance of multidisciplinary in setting up high quality healthcare projects and the importance of appropriate training of healthcare professionals and patients for their successful implementation.

At F.D. Roosevelt Hospital, she was at the forefront of the preparation and implementation of the first telemedicine projects.

More information and contact: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/viktoria-durajova-vargova-91160899/>